

J. Clay Murphey Society

The J. Clay Murphey Society, begun in 1985, was so named to honor United Way of Central Georgia's founder. The J. Clay Murphey Society embodies a singular commitment to community service and philanthropy. Members of the Society follow a proud tradition of other great leaders who have declared, through their actions, that this community is worthy of significant personal investment. Membership in the J. Clay Murphey Society is reserved for those who make a personal contribution of at least $1,000 to $9,999 annually to United Way of Central Georgia.
