Changing Lives Here and Now

*Marquis
Simmons*

Marquis Simmons began his membership with the Boys and Girls Club of Baldwin County in 2004. Being in the foster care system, he came with many challenges. Marquis has been a member for 6 years and staff have seen him transform into an outstanding young man. Overtime, his spirit softened and his heart was opened to different views. He began to really appreciate what “he” had to offer and appreciate those positive individuals that encircled him. His faith in adults was restored, consistency gave him the guidance that he needed, and he realized that it was okay to be himself and not worry about being hurt or let down by those whom he had built trust in. Marquis has received the Health and Life Skills Award, The Character and Leadership Development Award, and in March of 2010, Marquis received the honor of being the Youth of the Year for the Baldwin Unit and went on to represent our organization on a state level in Atlanta Georgia. He has grown into a fine, respectful, and successful young man. He currently works at the Boys and Girls Club as a junior staff member as he continues to strive for additional success and he plans to attend Georgia Military College in the Fall of 2010.

We're All About Helping Here At Home.

Our children, our seniors, our families, our communities...
it's up to us!

LIVE UNITED. Change a life.

Thousands of lives are being changed each and every day of the year by United Way agencies' services. Of course, each individual served experiences an improvement in their life. But, the added value of United Way is that the entire community is strengthened and improved by the tens of thousands of lives being changed in profoundly positive ways.
